

To: ebaker_home@email.com

From: oncology_clinic_noreply@unicancer.org (Sent on behalf of Dr. Carter)

Date: 22-Mar-2024

Subject: Your Recent Follow-up and Test Results

Dear Edward,

I hope this email finds you well and that you enjoyed your trip to see your new grandson.

I am writing to share the fantastic results from your appointment and bone marrow biopsy last week. As we discussed, this was your two-year surveillance check-up since you completed your treatment for AML back in early 2022.

I'm delighted to report that everything looks perfect. Your blood counts are all in the healthy, normal range, showing your bone marrow is functioning beautifully.

More importantly, the results from the bone marrow biopsy are completely clear. The pathologist saw no signs of leukemia, and the deeper, more sensitive tests (what we call flow cytometry and molecular MRD testing for your NPM1 mutation) were also negative. This is the best possible news we could have hoped for and confirms you remain in a deep and stable remission.

After starting CPX-351 on 15th December 2021, your journey was not easy, but your outcome has been truly excellent. At almost 2,5 years since your diagnosis in early December 2021, with no evidence of disease, your prognosis is outstanding.

Our plan from here is to continue monitoring, but we can now space out your visits even further. Let's have you come back to the clinic in six months for a simple blood test and check-in. We will continue with annual bone marrow biopsies for one more year, and then we can discuss stopping if all remains clear.

Please continue to live your life to the fullest. There are no restrictions on your activity.

If anything at all comes up or if you have any questions, you know how to reach us. Otherwise, we will see you in September.

Warmly,

Dr. Ben Carter

University Cancer Institute